"The South 40" by JAMES A. SMITH EXTENSION AGENT

Tomato plants can be set so deep in the ground that only a little tuft of leaves show above the surface. In loose or sandy soil, you can set plants vertically, but in heavy or poorly drained soil, it is better to dig a slanting trench 2 to 3 inches deep and lay plant in it. This means 4 to 6 leaves are sticking above the ground level. Trim off all leaves that would be under the surface. New roots will sprout all along the length of the stem.

Don't try deep transplanting with cabbage, eggplant, peppers and flowers. They are fussy about planting depth and prefer to be set in only as deep as the former soil line on the plant. You can see the line where the stems change color from pale white to green.

* * *

Insecticides can't work unless they get to the insects. That's why it is important to treat the entire plant, including upper and undersides of leaves.

* * *

Marbling is the small flects of fat you see in the lean tissue of meat.

The degree of marbling is an aspect of meat grading. This helps determine whether it grades good, choice or some other grade.

Actually there is a great deal of confusion on what marbling does for a piece of meat. The answer is simple; increased marbling adds to flavor and juiciness, but does not increase tenderness. Any perceived tenderness benefits from increased marbling are due to the psychological effect of flavor and juiciness. Therefore, if marbling is ample for satisfactory flavor and juiciness, chances are that it will be an acceptable product.

* * *

Every winter we get the question, "What can I do to control sprouts on potatoes?" The answer is treat the plants while the potatoes are still in the ground.

Mix two tablespoons of M-H 30 in enough water to cover a 100 foot row. If rain comes within 24 hours, sprouts may not be effectively controlled. Vines must be green and growing at the time of application of M-H 30, although some of the bottom leaves should be turning yellow.

Do not use if potatoes are to be saved for seed.

* * *

For many gardeners it's time to begin spraying tomatoes for blight control. This should be done when the flowers begin to form. There are several recommended materials, manzineb or captan. Apply regularly at 7 to 10 day intervals. If rainy weather, treat every 5 days.

Zineb and maneb cannot be used within 5 days of harvest. If it seems important to spray after harvest begins, change to captan.

* * *

Garden soils with a low pH are more likely to cause blossom-end rot on tomatoes. Treat with calcium chloride --- rate of 4 level teaspoons per gallon of water. Make 2 to 3 weekly applications.

ASCS Today

By Tom Conrad

ASCS OFFICE IS REGISTERING BEEF PRODUCERS - On Monday, June 6, the ASCS office started registering beef producers to vote on the beef research and informations order in July. The registration period will run until June 17. Beef producers who fail to register cannot vote in the July referendum.

If over half of the registered producers vote in the referendum and two-thirds of those voting approve the order, the Secretary of Agriculture will appoint a beef board, composed of not more than 68 beef producers, from names submitted by producer organizations. The board would collect assessments on sales of cattle and use the funds for beef research and information programs.

FIRE AND SUN TOBACCO TO BE REPORTED BY JUNE 30 - Fire and sun-cured tobacco producers are reminded to report their planted acreage by June 30, 1977. The planted acreage must be reported in order that the producer be eligible for price support.

ASCS is requesting acreage reports from all farmers this year because 1977 crop data may be needed to determine 1978 set-aside requirements if there is need to set aside land from production. Congress is now considering legislation which would change the basis for benefits from allotments to planted acres.

Farmers who have planted acreage in 1977 crop wheat, corn, grain sorghum or barley and fail to report such acreage may be ineligible for program benefits in 1978.

ASCS TO SPOT-CHECK ACREAGE REPORTS- As farmers report their 1977 planted acreage for grains and flue, fire and sun tobacco the ASCS office reporters will visit farms on a random basis to spot-check reports. The reporters that will be doing the spot-checking this summer are Glenn Martin, John Hudson, Donnie Thornhill and Mike Torrence.

REGISTRATION PERIOD FOR BEEF REFERENDUM TO END JUNE 17- On Friday, June 17, the registration period for the upcoming Beef Referendum will end.

Beef producers and dairymen who produced beef in 1976 must register by the 17th in order to vote in the July 5-15 referendum.

If over half of the registered producers vote in the referendum and two-thirds of those voting approve, the Secretary of Agriculture will appoint a beef board, composed of not more than 68 beef producers, from names submitted by producer organizations. The board would collect assessments on sales of cattle and use the funds for beef research and information programs.

FIRE AND SUN TOBACCO TO BE REPORTED BY JUNE 30 - Fire and sun-cured tobacco producers are reminded to report their planted acreage by June 30, 1977. The planted acreage must be reported in order that the producer be eligible for price support.
